

MY RESET

Declaration

Today I step into the Truth of who and what I am - powerful, whole, complete, loved, loving, and brilliant.

Today, I RESET my behavior to ALIGN with my Divine Design and to reflect honor, power, abundance and spiritual confidence.

Today I give up the lies that others have been telling me or that I have been telling myself.

Today I RESET my faith to believe that what I desire and believe I can receive, I can have.

Today I start walking in the Truth of Who my Creator says I am.

Today I RESET my thoughts and my mind to claim and receive God's highest and best for me, plans of a future filled with hope and promise.

Today I RESET my ears to hear Wisdom that helps me continue to live in integrity and excellence.

Today I start to treat my body more lovingly, talk to myself more lovingly, behave more lovingly, make more loving decisions, enter into more loving relationships, and choose more lovingly.

Today I RESET my habits to continual study and meditation in Holy Scriptures to guarantee my success.

Today, I RESET my mouth to speak clearly and wisely.

Today I FORGIVE myself and I release shame, guilt, regret, fear, rage, anger, depression, drama, lack and STRUGGLE.

Today I begin to reclaim my joy and reconnect to my joy.

Today I declare that PROSPERITY is my birthright. I am at ease when things are going well. I am at ease when things are going my way. I am at ease when blessings are flowing. I am at ease when money is flowing to me and around me.

TODAY I declare that I am at ease with my brilliance, beauty, and power.
